STRIKE TIES UP

Demand Wards Reisstatement.

What the strikers are demanting is the refinstatement of conductor William Ward and a revised wage scale. At present new hands are started at 17 cents an hour and after three years are given 22 cents. After four years the scale is 24 cents. The strikers want 23.1-2 cents an hour for first year men, 24.1-1 cents the third year, in addition to a 16 hour day off with pay each month. They also demand the recognition of their union and that manager Mitchell treat with any committee sent to present grievances to him.

Mitchell insists that the trouble all arose over the discharge of conductor Ward, following an altercation between Ward and inspector Joseph Blash. "Ward was fired for cause and will stay fired," Mitchell declared Saturday evening.

Links Is Formed.

Repeated domains by committees from the motormen and conductors that Ward be relamined, were refused by Mitchell. They then took steps to form a union. Saturday the charter for local division No. 636, Amalgamated Association of Street and Electric Railway Employes of America, arrived, and the organization of the union was completed.

The activities of the trust company will be limited to the furnishing of capital for buring milk cowa, hogs and Tesdors' to consume the products of the farmers, whom Mr. Miesse is bringing to the valley. Funds will not be loaned on the land itself. The company expects to supervise the use of the loans and to see to it that it is not diverted to unproductive use.

The fact that the land being sold on easy payments is fully developed after the latest scientific principles obviates the necessity of the purchaser expending funds in improving and the trust company will provide the pressing need for stock to consume the products of the soil. The valley is surrounded by cattle ranges on which the best Mereford stock is raised and there will be no lack of feeders at reasonable prices which can be fed and shipped fat to the markets. Seripps-McRen Man Here.

C. C. Lyon manager of the Scripps-McRae legislative bureau in Columbus, Ohio, is here with Mrs. Lyon for a vacalion visit. Mr. Lyon manager in the store, with the store, with the store, with the store, with the sunskips and I must get ready for them. With that the wagen and went into the store, with the boy following him.

reached for a revolver, alignted from the wagon and went into the store, with the boy following him.

Garlick and Russell, the lad said, entered the store soon after to buy some toberre. Garlick made the purchase, made a cigaret and lighted it, according to the boy's story. As he turned to go out of the store, according to the boy, made the remark that it was rotten tobacco, as it was all dried out. At that, he says, Mrs. Maria Guaderrama appeared from the back of the store and struck Garlick over the head with a pickax handle, knocking him to the floor. Then Juan Guaderrama, who was behind the counter, drew his gun and began shooting at Garlick as he lay on the floor, the boy doclares. How Russell was knocked down the boy did not know.

boy declares, flow stussell was knocked down the boy did not know.

Says Junn Shot His Mother.

The boy said that Juan shot his mother while trying to hit Garlick, and that a younger Mexican woman took the guns from the bodies of the men as they lay on the floor and disappeared with them into the living apartments in with them into the rens.

This accounts for the missing six-shooters. The boy also added that the two officers drew their guns, but shoot into the celling, as they were failing as into the ceiling, as they were failing as they drew.

The story as told by the Mexican boy, is borne out by the presence of wounds on both Garlick and Russell's head. Garlick had three or more cuts on top of the head as if made with a blunt weapon, while Russell was cut at the base of the skull, under the hat line by a sharp steel instrument, like a meat cleaver.

A post mortem examination was held over the body of Garlick but not on the body of Russell. The examination revealed the fact that the ball went through the thigh through the liver and shattered a rib on the right side. Upon striking the rib it ranged downward and imbedded itself in the spine. There was also another bullet in Garlick's head back of the left ear, which ranged downward as if he had been shot while on the floor.
